

FOR SALE: 5 Extremely Aggressive Barnyard Legends + One Bloodsucker – $50,000 (Will take $40k if you really press me and agree to do my laundry for 6 months.)

Are you tired of your art collection being “tasteful”? Sick of subtle landscapes and polite fruit bowls? Then boy, do I have the centerpiece conversation starters for you.

Up for grabs:

- Three Chickens of the Apocalypse – Brown, yellow, and one in a shade of pink so intense it could start a fight. Their eyes? Unblinking judgment. Their vibe? They know what you did.
- One Minotaur With Anger Issues – He’s orange, he’s furious, and he’s ready to guard your living room like it’s the Labyrinth. Hey, it’s close enough to Bevo if you’re a UT fan – nobody will know.
- One Overly-Dramatic Vampire – Comes complete with a high collar and a face that says, “I will absolutely RSVP to your housewarming and then critique your drapes.”

These aren’t just sculptures; they’re commitments. Perfect for scaring off solicitors, impressing dates, or confusing your HOA.

$50,000 takes the lot, but if you show up ready to haul them yourself and promise to love them forever (or at least until your spouse threatens to leave), I’ll drop to $40k – oh, and the laundry clause above.

First come, first served. Hurry while supplies last. Contact me, Axel Guns, 555-1313, if you are interested. Text, don’t call – I don’t answer my phone.

